

SEBA CAMP

Seba Camp has been designed to blend in with an ancient riverine forest with majestic hardwood trees like the sycamore fig and leadwood, all overlooking a perennial lagoon with its prolific birdlife and resident pods of hippo. Well-lit paths lead to the communal dining area and a lounge-library replete with reference and pictorial books. There is a secluded swimming pool enabling guests to refresh themselves and relax after a game drive. The dining and bar areas are also set on a raised saligna deck with spectacular views. Gourmet meals are served, usually al fresco, in the dining area: five-star cuisine and superb dinners follow cocktails shared by guests, researchers and guides around a traditional campfire.

It has five well-appointed and spacious elevated tents, each with en-suite bathroom and a private deck on which to relax and observe the passing wildlife in and around the perennial lagoon. The vibrant décor of each tent celebrates the different tribes of Botswana.

Seba Camp incorporates many features which make it welcoming to families with children. The main tent is a family villa with two interleading, en-suite double bedrooms. There is ample space for children, including a built-in 'tree-house' for them. An elevated deck has its own small swimming pool and sandpit.

*Wilderness Safaris Photography credits: Top: Caroline Culbert / Center: Mike Myers / Bottom: Mike Myers