

LE MERIDIEN FISHERMAN'S COVE

Seabirds skim the azure waters of the Indian Ocean, schools of fish flurry just below the surface, and the clear sunlight illuminates the rippling crystal waves. Welcome to the Seychelles, home of the amusingly shaped "love nut," the largest seabird colonies in the world, and over 1,000 fish species. Nestled in the heart of paradise on the southern tip of Beau Vallon, Le Méridien Fisherman's Cove re-opened in June 2004. The restored hotel features granite walls, thatched roofs, and a maze of fountains. The hotel's 70 guest rooms and suites all boast stunning ocean views.
