

Kirawira

Standing high on the bluff of a bush-cloaked ridge, commanding panoramic views over the endlessly rolling reaches and volcanic reefs of the Serengeti National Park, Kirawira Camp is the epitome of colonially-styled safari luxury. Designed in typically Edwardian style, it features an elegant central meeting tent evocatively furnished with a tasteful selection of chintz-covered chaises lounges, jewel-hued Persian rugs, antique escritoirs, wind-up phonograms, carved rocking chairs, and stud-backed smoking chairs. The tent also incorporates a stained-glass and mahogany Edwardian bar and a stone flagged, khaki-and-canvas 'Sun downer' terrace looking out over gently sloping acacia groves towards the lilac-grey hills and lion-gold plains of the Serengeti's Western Corridor, scene of the thunderous theatre of the million-strong wildebeest migration. As for camp views, from lilac-streaked sunrise to diamond-domed night, the searingly sensational Serengeti delivers a series of timeless volcanic vistas that are second to none.

The essentially colonial ambiance of the tented-rooms evokes colorful memories of the famous safaris of days gone by. Each room has a personal valet and has been accommodated in a spacious canvas tent, erected on raised platforms of rope-lashed logs and sheltered by a bush-thatch roof. The décor is a clever blend of classic opulence and camp practicality featuring generous four-poster beds, hand-made patchwork quilts, steamer-trunk wardrobes, brass lamps, sepia photographs and rosewood escritoirs, whilst to the rear of each tent is an elegant mahogany-paneled bathroom with twin marble washstands and classic black-and-white tiled Edwardian shower and lavatory.

Activities at Kirawira include a daily selection of morning and afternoon game drives through the magnificent ecosystem of the Serengeti, crocodile viewing safaris along the winding reaches of the Grumeti River, a ringside seat at the world famous wildebeest migration as it thunders past the camp and along the western corridor to the Maasai Mara, a sumptuous swimming pool with plunge-bath, waterfall, timbered viewing deck, parasols, steamer chairs and panoramic vistas, and cultural visits to neighboring local communities and schools and talks on the heritage and tradition of the local Ikoma and Sikuma tribes. Also enjoy spectacular views of Tanzania's oldest and most popular national park (Serengeti National Park) with the newly introduced balloon safaris. Kirawira Tented Camp shall offer guests an incomparable safari experience in the western corridor of the Serengeti National park.
