

Sussi Lodge

Sussi Lodge & Chuma House are named after David Livingstone's faithful friends and consist of an exclusive, upmarket lodge and a spacious two bedroom villa. Both of which take full advantage of their enchanting river-bank setting.

Guest accommodation consists of 10 luxury tree-houses, built into the living canopy of giant ebony trees lining the bank. Each unit has a view of the Zambezi from its own private viewing deck among the branches. Treehouses are also equipped with ensuite toilet, basin shower, bath and minibar, mosquito nets and overhead fans. The main lodge building features a spectacular raised bar/lounge deck, open air dining area, swimming pool and lawns sweeping down to the water's edge.

Resident wildlife, such as hippopotamus and elephant are likely to wander through the Lodge grounds at any time, since in the National Park they have priority. A wide choice of activities adds to the attractions of this elegant, secluded retreat. Amenities include swimming pool, curio shop, conference facilities, laundry and evening campfire.
