

SEYCHELLES

Somewhere in the Indian Ocean, you'll find 115 islands scattered throughout an azure sea each with their own unique tastes, smells and visions at a crossroad of Asia and Africa. Powder-soft white sandy beaches, untouched forests, bird sanctuaries, rocky mountains, exotic hideaways, virgin fishing grounds and spectacular diving, all to satisfy any travelers fascination. Snorkel the coral reefs, trek through the verdant valleys, enjoy what you discover in this secret hideaway or simply unwind and enjoy paradise, one island at a time.

Mahe Sampler

Mahé is the largest and most populated of the islands. This spectacular island is dominated by huge mountains and is covered by lush tropical vegetation. Seventy five beaches with beautiful soft sand are scattered around the island for you to discover and enjoy. Mahe is also home to the capital of the Seychelles, Victoria the main port and the International Airport.
